Through our programs and services, you can support the Centre created by professionals for emerging artists where they can network, exchange ideas, gain some confidence, get help with auditions and be mentored. Help is available also for artists who have mid-career crises or career changes. Helping the Centre is a sound investment in the new generations of Canada's performing artists, and musical heritage.

PROGRAMS AND SERVICES

Encounters with Employers:

Instead of 3-min auditions, employers are brought to Toronto to unofficially guide artists towards employment in a environment where they are able to experiment without risk.

Career Moves:

A Panel of professionals in diverse areas of the cultural industry give practical advice on the business of performing, contracts, negotiation, long-range planning and expectations.

Mentoring:

Informal sharing of knowledge, skills, information and resources on specific issues. Challenging artists to move beyond their comfort zone and to enhance their professional and personal growth.

Brainstorming:

Finding solutions for specific ideas, problems or questions.

With your help we can together advance the total development of Canadian performers.
